the finest Experience in Precision Airguns

GENERAL: PLEASE READ

Precision airguns are made to be used often. Keep a good supply of pellets, targets, and cleaning and maintenance equipment on hand. Your customers will appreciate it with their repeat business.

The use of high quality accessories will add to the enjoyment and satisfaction. Low quality substitutes, rather than getting by, are often a great deal more trouble than they are worth. Not all accessories are needed by everyone, but as proficiency increases, many of them become more valuable. To take full advantage of the accuracy potential of these precision sporting airguns, a scope with proper rings is desirable. Scopes not specifically designed for airguns will not provide satisfactory service or durability. See pages 17, 6 and 10 for airgun a selection of airgun scopes.

Every Beeman airgun that we sell is stamped with the Beeman name and qualifies for all Beeman warranties. Each has been tested and inspected by qualified Beeman specialists.

All Beeman sporting air rifles listed are barrel-break cocking. All feature adjustable trigger and sights and are grooved for scope and receiver sights. (Goldfinger is for scope use only, without sights) FVWB Match rifles are side lever cocking.
